New Trial Certain For Grandsinger

Supreme Court Refuses Review

Delephant Decision Allowed To Stand; Death Penalty To Be Asked Again Says Cherry County Attorney

Lloyd Grandsinger will again go on trial for his life on first degree murder charges in the death of a Nebraska state safety patrolman.

The trial, unless a change of venue is asked and granted, will take place in Cherry County District Court in Valentine, with Judge E. L. Meyer of Alliance presiding.

Judge Meyer told The Star he will call a special jury panel possibly this fall "if both parties are ready and want it." There is no scheduled jury panel in the court until Dec. 2.

The refusal Monday by the U.S. Supreme Court to review a decision overturning the conviction of Grandsinger given last April by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, in effect, required freedom or a retrial for Grandsinger.

Federal District Judge John W. Delephant of Lincoln had so ruled July 29, 1957, and the Court of Appeals upheld that decision April 7, 1958.

Donoho Decides
The Supreme Court action places the decision of a retrial or freedom upon Cherry County Attorney Dean Donoho, according to Nebraska Attorney General C. S. Beck.

Contacted in Valentine, Donoho said, "Of course, I'll order a new trial."

"The charge will again be first degree murder," the county attorney said. He indicated he would ask for a special jury panel to bring Grandsinger, sentenced to death more than 4 years ago, to trial before Dec. 2.

Donoho was not prosecuting attorney in the first trial; W. B. Quigley was Cherry County attorney at that time.

Judge Meyer, who presided at the first Grandsinger trial, said he would call the jury "within a reasonable time."

Lincoln attorney Charles Flansburg, who has handled appeal proceedings for Grandsinger, said he was "not committed either way" to handle or not handle the youth's defense in event of new trial.

"Pleased"
"I felt confident all along that Judge Delephant's decision was sound and well-reasoned. Needless to say I am pleased with the result," he said.

Beck said he "assumed" that the Delephant order calling for a time limit of 6 months in which to bring a new trial against Grandsinger goes into effect Monday.

The legal process which will now take place, he said, is for the U.S. Supreme Court to certify its refusal to review as asked by the State of Nebraska to the Circuit Court of

Omahan Kills Ex-Wife, Self

Slayings Follow Shot At Policeman Trying To Halt Quarrel

Omaha (P)—An Omaha laborer who was under court order to stay away from his ex-wife, killed her and then fatally wounded himself Monday after firing a shot at a policeman who came to the apartment to halt a reported quarrel.

The victims were Mrs. Patricia Condon Peri, 28, and her former husband, John, 34. Mrs. Peri's three children, aged one, 8 and 10, had been taken from the apartment a few minutes earlier by a neighbor who called police after leaving the children in a neighbor's home.

Policeman John Derry came to the apartment to investigate and he said Peri fired a shot at him as he entered the bedroom where Peri crouched in front of a window, using his wife as a shield.

Derry backed out trying to soothe Peri. Before he could get back into the room he heard three shots. He said he found Mrs. Peri dead, Peri critically wounded. Peri died in a hospital about 3 1/2 hours later.

Jealousy Cited
Relatives attributed the shootings to jealousy. John Condon of Omaha, a brother of Mrs. Peri, said Peri "just wouldn't accept the fact that he and my sister were divorced."

There had been a series of tiffs since the divorce about a year ago. Mrs. Peri obtained a court order to prevent her husband from bothering her and last December he was placed on probation for 2 years for failing to support the 3 children. Douglas County Adult Probation Officer Harry Stevenson said probation was given because it was felt the support money from him would help his family.

Mrs. Peri worked as a waitress to support them. Peri was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace on his ex-wife's complaint only a week ago, but the charge was dismissed.

Arrested At 13
Police records showed that Peri had been arrested when he was 13 for stealing bikes, was nabbed 10 years later near Tenville, Iowa, for boot-legging; and 2 1/2 years ago was fined on liquor charges in Council Bluffs.

Police said that on the floor where Peri lay fatally wounded beside his dead ex-wife they found a crumpled wad of paper.

On it simple prayers had been scrawled in pencil:

"God bless my wife
Abide with her
Through every day
And at night, that
She may live in love and peace and in thy blessed light."

"God bless my children
Abide with them
Through every day
Night that they may
Live in love and peace
In thy blessed light."

Slavs Protest Slaying

Hungary Blasted In Nagy Death

Belgrade (P)—Yugoslavia made a strong protest to the Hungarian government Monday against the execution of Hungarian ex-Premier Imre Nagy. It declared the Hungarian government "has taken on itself the full responsibility for consequences which might follow."

Radio Belgrade said Yugoslav Ambassador Jovo Kopic delivered the protest note to Hungarian Deputy Foreign Minister Istvan Sebes in Budapest.

The note described the execution of Nagy as a "gross and unprovoked attack on Yugoslavia." In announcing the execution last week, Hungary said Nagy used his refuge in the Yugoslav Embassy to continue his activities during the 1956 anti-Soviet revolt in Hungary.

'Fabricated'
Yugoslavia called that accusation "untrue and fabricated from beginning to end."

It declared the Hungarian government knows that persons who received asylum in the Yugoslav Embassy did not commit any of the alleged acts during their stay there. The embassy was surrounded by Soviet troops and secret police during that period and it would have been impossible for persons in the embassy to have any illegal contacts, it added.

Because of the circumstances under which the trial and execution took place, the note went on, "doubt in the truthfulness of the indictment is justified."

Gomulka Unhappy
Warsaw, Poland (P)—Wladyslaw Gomulka was reported unhappy Monday over the execution of Hungary's Imre Nagy. As an upshot, he soon may face attacks from Stalinists within the Polish Communist party.

The Communist party boss has scheduled a plenary session of the party Central Committee early next month.

If there is to be any fighting between Gomulka, who tries to make a show of independence under Moscow's shadow, and the Stalinists it likely will come then. Stalinists used party meetings last May and July to attack the party secretary.

But there seemed little likelihood Gomulka is in any danger of being ousted. He is reported to have the support of between 50 and 60 of the committee's 80 members.

Lana, Cheryl Stories Differ On Stabbing

Los Angeles (P)—Cheryl Crane told again Monday of the stabbing of Johnny Stompanato and a lawyer said her story differed in an important detail from that of her mother, Lana Turner.

Attorney William J. Pollack, representing Stompanato's heirs, said Cheryl's version of the slaying of her mother's lover raised a question as to where in Lana's bedroom the stabbing took place.

Twins Mark 2nd Birthday —As Orphans

Holbrook, Ariz. (P)—The Johansen twins were orphans on their second birthday.

Their father, Jack D. Johansen, 32, Navy sailor, was killed in a traffic accident Saturday, and their mother, Mrs. Helen Johansen, 28, died later of injuries.

The twins, Mark and LuAnne, were injured themselves but not seriously.

The family was en route from their home in El Cajon, Calif., to Hastings, Neb. They had hoped to be there Monday so the twins' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Johansen and Mrs. C. D. Knost, could join in the birthday celebration.

Johansen was a torpedoman at Fleet Sonar School, San Diego.

Highway Patrolman John Consoni said he apparently dozed at the wheel and his car spun off the road into a tree.

Rain, Cool To Follow Cold Front

A cold front moving into the state from the Dakota was expected to bring rain and cool nighttime temperatures to Nebraska Tuesday.

The Weather Bureau predicted showers and thunderstorms for the western and southern half of Nebraska Tuesday, with the rains expected to continue in the south Tuesday night.

Forecasters expected the cold front to drop temperatures in northeast Nebraska by Tuesday. The 5-day predictions call for highs 3 to 6 degrees below the normal mid-80s for the state.

Overnight lows are expected to dip to 50 and the high 40s across the state.

High temperatures Monday were topped by 82-degree readings at Lincoln and Scottsbluff. Sidney reported 81, and Imperial, 80.

Promise Of No Reprisal Asked

Sen. Russell Accuses McElroy Of Totalitarian-Like Tactics

Washington (P)—Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services Committee Monday called off further testimony by military chiefs on the defense reorganization bill until he gets a promise they can give their views without fear of reprisal.

In taking this action, Russell denounced what he called totalitarian-like tactics by Secretary of Defense McElroy against Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, for criticizing the administration plan.

Sen. Russell before Russell's committee.

"The clear implication in the secretary's statement is that the joint chiefs must conform or be purged," Russell said in a statement. Ascribing this "is more in keeping with the totalitarian concept of government" than with a democracy, Russell declared.

"A witness testifying under the sword of reprisal will find it difficult to give his views."

There was no immediate comment from McElroy, who told newsmen at Quantico, Va., last weekend he regretted Burke's opposition to parts of the bill and was disappointed by the admiral's testimony. McElroy later said his remarks were not intended as a rebuke to Burke.

Russell, however, reading a prepared statement, at a news conference, rejected McElroy's explanation that he had not intended to reprove Burke.

"In these circumstances," he added, "I doubt whether further testimony from the military chiefs will contribute anything to a great understanding of the issues involved by the Congress or the people of the country."

Then Russell said he was canceling Tuesday's scheduled appearances of two chiefs of staff unless he got "a clear and unequivocal statement from the secretary of defense" that they could speak freely.

McElroy Phones
It was learned that McElroy telephoned Russell Monday afternoon, but what they said was not disclosed.

Referring to military leaders in general, Russell said: "I want to know that if they do testify, they are not going to be denounced for it the next day."

"There's a great deal of difference between saying a man is free to speak and then, if he does, they pin his ears back the next day."

Tuesday's witnesses were to have been Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Randolph McCreight, Marine Corps commandant.

100 Dead In Brazil Blasts

Sao Salvador, Brazil (P)—more than 100 Brazilians were reported killed and 340 injured Monday in 2 great chain reaction explosions in fireworks stores.

The fireworks were being prepared and vended for the traditional June celebrations of Saints Days.

Faced with the twin disasters in Bahia State, the government took steps to ban all fireworks.

Reports from Santo Amaro, 15 miles north, said about 100 were killed and 300 injured in a single blast there. A broken electric power line was blamed for the original ignition.

A similar fireworks blowup in Feira De Santana was reported to have killed 7 and injured 40.

Santa Amaro officials sent out urgent appeals for medical aid, dispatches said. Some deaths were attributed to lack of immediate medical attention. Rains were hampering first rescue efforts.

Iowa Cycle Crash Kills Nebraskans

Carson (P)—Two young motorcyclists were killed Monday night when their vehicle was in collision with a truck on Iowa 92 about 6 miles east of here.

Officers identified the victims as Dale Williams, 20, of Omaha and Bridgewater, Iowa, and Johnny Hutchings, 20, of Allen, Neb.

The two apparently were killed instantly when their motorcycle hit the stock truck, officers said. Carson is in Pottawattamie County.

WANTED BY STATE PATROL —TWO SHOES

A little Lincoln boy will not be going barefoot if the State Safety Patrol can help it.

His dad called the Lincoln Patrol office late Monday night and told them he had been stopped just west of Grand Island by a trooper because his car had only one headlight.

He got out to talk to the trooper, he said, and inadvertently knocked his son's shoes out of the car.

Could the Patrol please check around for the shoes? Early Tuesday the Grand Island area troopers were still searching.

Another City Plumbing Inspector Is Requested

Contractors Tell Council Of 'Bootleggers' Work

By Virgil Falloon
Employment of an additional city plumbing inspector was requested by the Lincoln Plumbing and Heating Contractors Association before the City Council Monday.

Atty. Lyle Holland, representing the master plumbers' group, said "bootlegger plumbers" are coming into the city, often at night, and doing a lot of substandard work.

Holland described as "alarming" the amount of plumbing work being done without a city permit. He said 2 plumbing inspectors are not enough for a city of 128,000.

It was pointed out that the $7,000 in permit fees so far this year is below the department's overhead of $11,000.

City Coordinator James Mallon told the Council that current permit fees are about 1/2 of the amount of former years, which have been as much as $28,000.

Consider Added Inspector
Mayor Bennett Martin said that the Council would consider the employment of an additional inspector in connection with the 1958-59 budget.

T. D. Morrissey, president of the plumbing association commented that the request for a 3rd plumbing inspector was made in the interests of protecting the public against poor sanitary standards.

At present, he said, only one inspection is made during the "roughing in" or preliminary plumbing work. Another inspector is necessary if plumbing code standards requiring 2 inspections—the 2nd one after completion of the plumbing work, are to be met.

"The final inspection is just as important as the preliminary one in order to prevent cross connections which could cause water pollution."

Other Action
In other action, the Council introduced on 1st reading an ordinance increasing the fees for making water service taps.

The new scale is $8 to $40 as compared with the present $7 to $33. City officials said the increase was needed because of increased labor and material costs.

Also introduced was an ordinance excluding 48th from Pioneer Blvd. to the Burlington Railroad right-of-way from the city limits.

The proposed ordinance would permit the improvement of 48th street as a county road project, which is now under consideration.

The following action was taken on these ordinances for special assessment districts:

Introduced, 1st Reading.
Paving district on St. Paul Ave. from 56th to 57th.

Passed, 3rd Reading.
Paving district 1575 being Holdrege between 76th and 80th Sts. and 52nd St. to 54th St.

Tabled For 1 Week.
Paving district 1573 being Morrill Ave. between 65th and 68th.

$1,500 Diamond Swiped; Was Part Of Gift For Ike
New Orleans (AP) — A $1,500 diamond from the head of a golden golf putter said to have been designed as a gift for President Eisenhower was reported stolen Monday.

Floyd S. Rood of Morgan City, La., told police he is president of the National Youth Foundation and the jeweled club was to be a gift from the organization to the President in September.

Rood said someone pried the diamond from its palladium setting when he set it aside briefly in a cocktail lounge. He said the gold plated putter alone was valued at $1,500.

Teen-Age Shoplifting Ring Broken

... 11 Girls, 1 Boy

A teen-age shoplifting ring has been broken up by the Lincoln Police Dept., and its 12 members—11 girls and 1 boy—have been referred to the County Juvenile Probation Office for possible court action.

Police officer Grace McMichael said ages of the youths involved ranged from 11 to 14, and that 2 girls ages 13 and 14 were the leaders of the ring. These 2 girls, she said, had shoplifted merchandise since last August.

The youths involved admitted taking more than $128 in merchandise—ranging from cigarettes to lipstick to bathing suits—from 11 local stores. Most of the thefts occurred in May and June. About 40 separate items were stolen.

Frank Brewster Tearfully Leaves Teamsters Post
Seattle (AP) — His eyes brimming with tears, Frank W. Brewster stepped down Monday as chairman of the Western Conference of Teamsters, turning the job over to a long-time rival, Einar Mohn.

"I step out of here with the kindest thoughts a man could have for his organization," Brewster said. "I will prove by words and acts that Einar Mohn will get 100% support."

Then he shook hands with Mohn, wiped his eyes and heaved a deep sigh audible to many of the 220 delegates attending the 72nd meeting of the conference.

Brewster was removed as chairman by executive action of Teamsters President James Hoffa who named Mohn as successor.

Mohn replied with tributes both to Brewster and Dave Beck Sr., former president of the International Union and a mentor of Brewster.

Beck, he said, "has made a great contribution in building up the Teamsters' organization and establishing wages, hours and conditions for the people we represent."

Convalescent Care Center Studiers Begin Work Here

Oren Govier, associate of the Minneapolis planning firm making a study of a proposed convalescent care center in Lincoln, arrived Monday for a fact-finding study expected to take a week to 10 days.

Govier and Lincoln General Hospital Administrator Herbert A. Anderson conferred on preliminary plans for the survey which is expected to result in size and cost estimates for the new facility by mid-July.

The center survey costs are being met 2/3 by the county and 1/3 by Lincoln General. County commissioners are expected to formally approve the expenditure of county funds for their share of the $3,000 survey plus not more than $500 expense budget at the Tuesday County Board meeting.

During his stay Govier will tour the Lincoln General facilities and explore possible sites near the hospital for the building of the center to care for county and private patients now being housed in Lincoln hospitals.

Both Lincoln General and the new center will be the object of a "space utilization" study by Govier, who will also gather material for a plot plan of the center.

The Minneapolis man, representing the planning firm of James A. Hamilton and Associates, will meet with Lincoln General Board President Robert Guenzel Tuesday.

Govier will return to Minneapolis to confer with other members of the firm and draw up estimates and plans after finishing his survey here.

County commissioners have discussed the use of inheritance tax funds, which now amount to approximately $400,000 to match 40% federal funds for the building of the new center which is aimed mainly at geriatrics care.

Education Group Split Into Districts
To make it "more convenient" for its members, the Lay Citizens State Committee on Education Monday was divided into 4 districts so members will not have to travel so far to attend meetings.

The Committee is a private organization, headed by former State Sen. Glenn Cramer of Albion, designed to promote legislation on education.

Cramer said the group's executive committee Monday named these persons as chairmen of 3 of the 4 districts:

Vern Jones of Nebraska City, chairman for the south-east Nebraska district; Gordon Nurenberger of Wakefield, northeast district, and the Rev. James K. Irwin of Valentine, as chairman in the northwest district.

Cramer said a chairman in the southwest district will be named when the committee has completed its membership in that area.

When the organization is complete, Cramer said the district groups will meet to discuss proposed legislation for the 1959 Legislature.

A state-wide meeting will be held in Lincoln in November when the group will decide what educational programs it will promote.

New Grandsinger Trial Sure

The mandate will then go to the attorney general's office, Beck said, and finally it will reach the Cherry County attorney's office.

Grandsinger, told of the high court decision at the State Penitentiary by Warden Joseph Bovey, said he would have "no comment. I want to think about it."

Grandsinger was convicted June 16, 1954 of the murder of Patrolman Marvin Hansen on April 8, 1954 in Cherry County as he sought to arrest Grandsinger, then 21.

Grandsinger and his brother were alleged to have committed various thefts, including the stealing of an automobile. The Nebraska Supreme Court affirmed the conviction and the U.S. Supreme Court on Oct. 22, 1956 refused to review the trial.

Attorney's Admission
Grandsinger's counsel then began his habeas corpus proceedings in lower federal courts, based on an admission by one of the attorneys hired by Grandsinger's father for the 1954 trial. The attorney admitted he pushed a wooden dowel through a bullet hole in a belt worn by Hansen when he was shot.

Grandsinger was alleged to have shot Hansen with a .22 caliber pistol. Hansen and the county sheriff carried .38 caliber revolvers at the time of the shooting.

The Circuit Court on April 7, 1958 in ruling against Grandsinger's conviction said

Hoffa Is Acquitted

... Wiretap Case

New York (AP) — Teamsters president James R. Hoffa was acquitted Monday night in a second trial on charges of wiretapping the union's Detroit headquarters.

Two other defendants, Owen B. Brennan, president of Detroit Teamsters Local 337, and Bernard Spindel, professional New York wiretapper, also were found innocent by a jury that had the case 9 hours.

The 3 were accused in a conspiracy count of wiretapping the union headquarters in 1953 so Hoffa could eavesdrop on union employees. The penalty under the federal statute was a maximum 5 years and $10,000 fine if convicted.

The Federal District Court jury of 8 men and 4 women got the case at 11:35 a.m. EDT, after a month-long second trial. The first trial ended late last year in a hung jury.

7 Named To Ag Hall Board
Kansas City (AP) — Seven new members were named to the board of governors of the Agricultural Hall of Fame Monday.

They were Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan.); James S. Russell, farm editor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune; J. D. Lawrence, Columbia, S.C.; Jerry Voorhis, Chicago; Chester D. Housh, Elkton, Va.; Roy S. Hendrickson, Washington, D.C. and James Isleib, Prairie Village, Kan., former Farm Credit Administration executive.

Voorhis is executive director of the Cooperative League of the U.S.A. and Hendrickson is executive secretary of the National Federation of Grain Cooperatives.

Dr. Lyman E. Jackson, dean of agriculture at Penn State University, was named chairman of a committee to choose a site for the proposed hall.

Other committee members are Ed Hoyt, Lincoln, Neb.; R. B. Tootell, Washington; the Rev. E. W. Mueller, Chicago, and Mrs. Paul Hiatt, Bethany, Mo.

SANDHILLERS COLLECT FOR STARKWEATHER
Valentine, Neb. (UPI) — Cherry County Attorney Dean L. Donoho said Monday that citizens in Cherry County were taking up a collection to help convicted mass killer Charles Starkweather appeal his conviction beyond state courts.

Donoho said the people in the northern Sandhills put it this way: "Anything good enough for (Loyd) Grandsinger is good enough for Starkweather."

Grandsinger was convicted in Cherry County of killing State Patrolman Marvin Hansen. But federal courts have ordered a new trial on grounds that Grandsinger did not receive adequate counsel during the 1954 trial.

Starkweather has been convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to death. However, his attorneys have said that there are no funds to finance an appeal beyond the automatic appeal to the State Supreme Court.

STRENGTH OF STATE GOP DUE TO VOLUNTEER ACTION—SPELTS

Lincoln Star Special
Grand Island, Neb. (AP) — "Republican strength in Nebraska is due to volunteer action," GOP State Chairman Richard E. Spelts said Monday.

The 38-year-old Nebraskan is himself an unpaid party worker, in marked contrast to almost all other GOP state chairmen who are paid as much as $18,000 a year (in Ohio).

Back from a week in Washington where he attended a 3-day campaign school gathering for Republican state chairmen, Spelts listed for The Star these conclusions drawn in the face of a rising national Democratic trend:

—the GOP, while it is a minority party in registration figures, is equal to the Democratic Party "as far as thinking tendencies are concerned" as indicated by national polls.

—one handicap is that the GOP is "a party of responsibility, unwilling to promise the moon for votes."

—the party has acquired the "false stigma" of being termed the party of big business.

—the tone of the national economy at election time in 1958 and 1960 will determine victory or defeat.

The chairmen made no firm decisions and adopted no resolutions; rather, they were schooled on technical campaign procedures such as poll-taking, direct mail appeal and billboard advertising.

Car Hunted As Inmate Escapes From Reformatory
Authorities are looking for a 17-year-old Council Bluffs youth who escaped from the Nebraska Reformatory early Monday morning.

Larry Edward Dye, a transfer from the Kearney Industrial School, walked away from a farm work detail about 7:30 a.m., according to Reformatory Supt. Harold Smith.

He is described as having brown hair, blue eyes, 141 pounds and 5 feet 10 inches tall.

Supt. Smith said a 1949 2-tone green Mercury automobile was discovered missing from the reformatory immediately after the escape.

Dye, who according to Smith could have been released from the Reformatory in 6 months, was transferred from Kearney because of incorrigibility.

AMA Leader Hits Free Hospital Care Plan For Oldsters

... Could 'Bankrupt' Nation

San Francisco (UPI)—The president of the American Medical Association said Monday that free hospital care for social security beneficiaries could "destroy us as a nation and leave us bankrupt and debauched."

Dr. David B. Allman, Atlantic City, N.J., replied to critics of the AMA's fight against socialized medicine in his message officially opening the annual AMA meeting here.

His offensive was directed partly at backers of the Forand bill, a proposal to offer free hospital care to senior citizens who in many states can get hospital insurance only at high premiums or cannot get it at all.

Allman offered this counterproposal: "The AMA should get together with other agencies and study the situation, then map a plan to provide care for these persons on a basis that would allow them to keep their dignity."

Replying to critics who have said the AMA is negative about federal medical and health programs, he asked:

"What is there positive in proposals which, with utter disregard of economic facts, promise nebulous mass benefits at the cost of individual dignity and freedom?"

"What is positive about programs involving more and more taxation to pay for benefits impartially available to all persons in complete disregard of their individual need of such benefits...?"

Dr. Gunnar Gundersen, president-elect of the AMA, urged organized medicine to give a little in its "old guard" stand, remembering that change is part of the present social climate.

Chicago Nun In Warsaw; 10-Day Trip A Mystery

Warsaw (UPI)—A 72-year-old Chicago nun knelt in prayer in a Warsaw convent Monday night with her mysterious 10-day disappearance unexplained.

Sister Cajetan arrived Monday and went straight to the U.S. Embassy to tell of her late arrival. She left Vienna by train on Friday, June 13, and should have arrived next morning at the Polish shrine of Czestochowa.

She carried a gift of $1,000 from Chicago Catholics to Polish orphans. She arrived in Warsaw with the money intact.

But somewhere on the way, which led across Communist Czechoslovakia, Sister Cajetan has lost 10 days and was not willing to talk about that.

These missing days spread headlines across Chicago's newspapers. Polish Catholics knew of her difficulties in advance and arranged for her to go to the convent of the Sisters of the Resurrection in a Warsaw suburb.

9 Candidates Who Filed No Expenses Are Named

A list of 9 primary election candidates who have not reported their campaign expenses as required by law was sent to Attorney General C. S. Beck late Monday afternoon by the Secretary of State's office "for whatever action you (Beck) feel is appropriate."

Included on the list were the names of 2 legislative candidates, a Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, and 6 candidates for public power directorships.

In a letter to Beck, Secretary of State Frank Marsh noted that Nebraska laws require such reports from candidates to be filed in the Secretary of State's office 10 days after the primary which made the deadline May 23 this year.

Courtesy Notices
Marsh said although his office is not required by law to do so, it has, as a matter of policy, sent courtesy notices to delinquent candidates and that they had "come to the unhappy conclusion that such courtesy notices have not in the past been effective."

Marsh said his office this year sent courtesy notices to delinquents June 11 in which they informed the candidates that they would transmit to the attorney general the names of delinquents on June 23.

Nebraska laws provide that persons failing to comply with the expense report requirement shall, upon conviction thereof, be liable to a fine not exceeding $1,000, to be recovered with costs in an action brought by the Attorney General or county attorney of the candidate's county.

Another law provides that a person failing to comply cannot enter upon the duties of any office to which he may be elected until he shall have filed the reports required by law.

Marsh wrote Beck he realized that "in taking this action... the law does not require us to do so," but "we firmly believe that it is our duty to make this law mean something to all concerned."

"There For Purpose"

"We believe," Marsh continued, "that if it (the law) is on the books, it is there for a purpose."

Candidates named turned over to Beck were:

Lawrence W. M. McVoy of Omaha, candidate for the Legislature from the 5th Dist.; Niels Kammergaard of Kimball, Legislature, 43rd Dist.; William W. Jurgensen of Omaha, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor; and these public power director candidates: Lester Gross of St. Michael; John H. Meyer of Smithfield; Sterling Swanson of Syracuse; Harley G. Kennedy of Page; Paul Kurtz of Scottsbluff, and Lee Hawkins of Peetz, Colorado.

Unexpected

Byrdstown, Tenn. (UPI)—Democratic Senator Albert Gore, currently making speeches in Tennessee in his re-election campaign, got support from an unexpected source.

Gore was speaking on the Courthouse lawn when a loud voice from the jailhouse window shouted, "hurrah for Gore."

"I welcome all support," the senator told his audience. "I just hope he gets out in time to vote."

Rev. Klein Is Pastor

Salem Congregational

The Rev. Robert C. Klein has been chosen as the new pastor of Salem Congregational Church at 9th and Charleston, according to J. P. Rebersdorf, chairman of the church board.

He replaces the Rev. Carl Roemich, who resigned in the latter part of February to accept the pastorate of the Salem United Church of Christ in Scottsbluff.

Rev. Klein has been the chaplain at the State Penitentiary since 1957.

The minister received his A.B. degree from Yankton College, Yankton, S.D., his bachelor of Theology Degree from Yankton Theological Seminary and was ordained in June, 1949. He has done graduate work in Multnomah School, Portland, Ore., and his religious training was received at the New York Avenue Congregational Church in Hastings.

Before starting work at the State Penitentiary, Rev. Klein worked in uniform as a custodial officer to become acquainted with the various aspects of prison life and to attain an understanding of the administration.

He has served two other churches since being ordained, the Zion Congregational Church in Weatherford, Okla., and Pilgrim Congregational Church in Wapato, Wash.

Rev. Klein has been a scoutmaster and council member of the Boy Scouts of America and has served as moderator for the Pacific Conference of the Congregational Church (Washington, Oregon and Idaho).

Commander Hurt

Jakarta, Indonesia (UPI)—The rebel commander defending the city of Menado against a 4-pronged government assault in northern Celebes was wounded by mortar fire and was not expected to live, a government radio said.

The Makassar radio on Celebes, 600 miles south of the fighting around Menado, said Lt. Col. Ventje Sumual, one of the original "young colonels" who rebelled against the government of President Sukarno last Feb. 15, was wounded in the right side and both legs by mortar shells.

Reports from about half of the 64 district offices of internal revenue showed that about 99 out of some 500,000 attachments against various types of assets involved unemployment checks, he said.

Publisher Claims Papers Caught In Cost Squeeze

Atlantic City, N.J. (UPI)—The nation's newspapers are caught in a squeeze between rising costs and shrinking advertising income, D. Tennant Bryan, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, said.

Bryan, publisher and treasurer of the Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch, told the opening of the ANPA 30th mechanical conference that publishers must be more cost-conscious, particularly in their mechanical departments, if they are to weather the current period of advertising lineage decreases.

Three years ago, he said, newspaper publishers were concerned with the competition from television and magazine advertising, but today, the chief concern is finding sufficient revenue from advertising and circulation to meet newspaper bills and payrolls.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

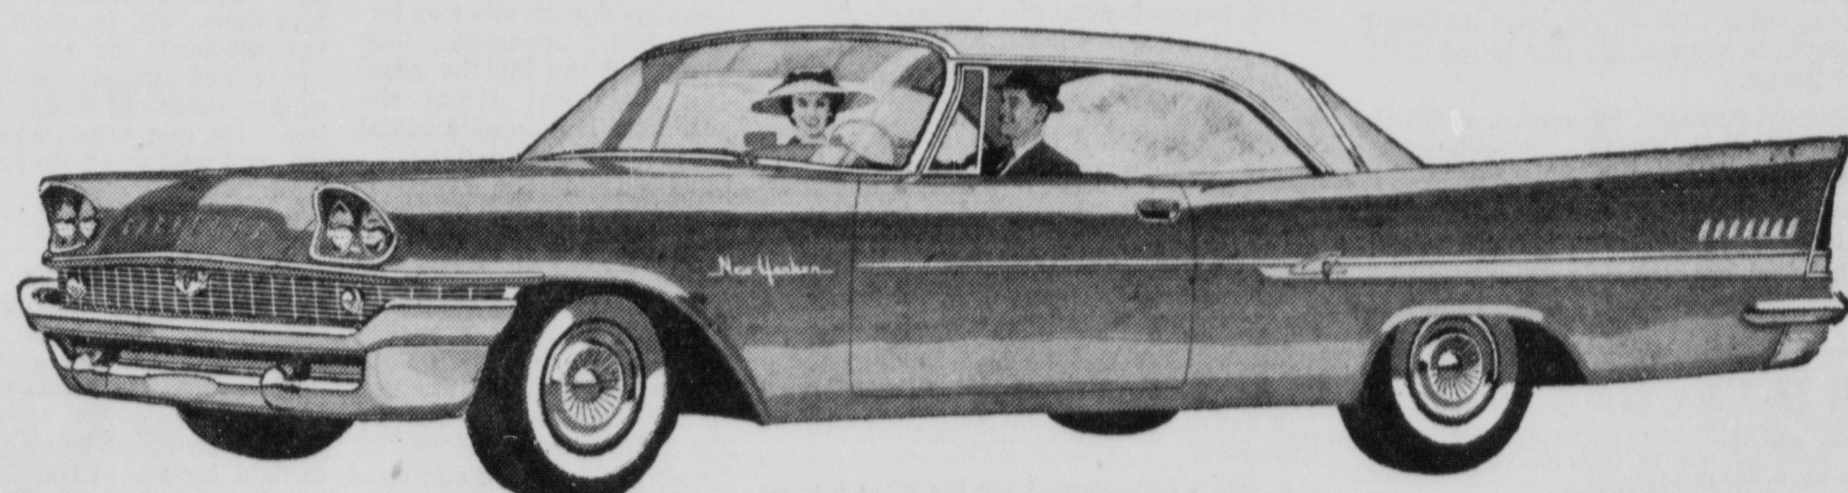

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N.Y. (Special)
Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished without extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion. The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

The Helping Hand Of Russia

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Warnings have been clearly sounded from time to time of the growing economic offensive of the Soviet Union. The Red leaders themselves have served notice in many ways that they intend to conquer the western world by methods other than military combat.

But the U.S. Foreign Agriculture Service has come up with some more interesting views on the subject of Soviet economic penetration of nations not yet under its thumb.

Partnership Approach

The latest report of the Service boils down to the fact that Russia is presenting herself as a partner much more in harmony with the ways and needs of underdeveloped nations. The U.S. is being shown by the Reds as having reached a point of development which most other nations cannot hope to achieve.

On the other hand, the Russian standard of living and economic development is not beyond the logical expectations of most underdeveloped nations. What is more, it takes time for the democratic system of free enterprise to take hold and bring results.

The Soviet method is much more effective over a short period. There is some logic to this and a great deal of truth but it ignores the fact that the initial result of the Soviet method is not an end in itself. This final end is enslavement of people and destruction of all freedom.

The danger in the situation lies, as the report by the Service notes, in the fact that the ways of Communism are at least as near to the ways of presently underdeveloped nations as is American democracy. Many of the Asiatic and European nations have lived with little in the way of a representative form of government.

The peoples of backward nations have never known true freedom and thus would be less likely to rebel at government domination. If these people have not been slaves to government, they have been slaves to poverty—to hunger, sickness and to lack of shelter. It is easy to see that they could readily be convinced of the advantages of a government that could improve their way of life.

There is also a practical problem which must be faced by the U.S. Our form of government is based on the active participation of the citizens in the affairs of state. Theoretically—and factually in the long-run—our government is subject to the will and desire of the people.

In nations where there is a high rate of illiteracy and mass ignorance, this may not be a very practical approach. How can a people who know nothing of industrialization or mass education be expected to help themselves?

For many of these nations, their only hope lies in leadership from a choice few.

Leadership The Hope

The backward nations must be improved from only a handful of selected individuals. This condition is one which could just as easily foster Communism as democracy. There are cases where this has been proved, such as China, and cases where the opposite has been true, such as India, the Philippines and parts of South America.

In China's case, Communism has not proved that it can exceed democracy, despite its theoretical advantage of concentrated exploitation. But the warnings sounded by the U.S. Foreign Agriculture Service should help alert this nation to the political and sociological problems it faces in relationships with neutral nations seeking to improve themselves.

Provisions For India

It is interesting to note that as the current foreign aid bill moves toward decision, it contains a special provision which critics have not been able to knock out.

It declares it to be in the interests of the United States to join with other nations in providing support of the type and magnitude and duration adequate to assist India to complete successfully its current program for economic development.

That is a statement of policy, overriding the practiced policies largely of Secretary Dulles. And it is an answer to the body of criticism which would cut India off at the pockets because it refuses to become partisan in the East-West struggle. If the measure carries, it will deprive the State Department of the choice between aid or no aid, and in that respect it reflects a disagreement in views between Congress and Dulles.

It is curious when all is said and done that the United States has done as well with its aid to nations who are not in our orbit as it has with those who are. None can say that Marshall Tito is the apple of the West's eye, but he has been a bad mote in the eye of Russia. India has refused to join up with our side. But she has also refused to join up with the Reds and this much is certain—if India succeeds it will mean the creation of a democracy, not a Communist state.

India's economic aspirations are of the most modest sort. It has a per capita annual income of $60. Its current program hopes to increase that to $67. Under those circumstances, a greater flow of aid to India is not going to strain the U.S. economy.

Political Hog Prices

If you didn't know any better, you might accuse the nation's hog raisers of political conspiracy. During the fall election, farmers will be marketing hogs with the crop only 2 per cent larger than at the same time last year. This, of course, will help maintain the price. The condition is much more favorable than the earlier predicted 6 per cent increase in the 1957 fall market number.

But the new fall crop, for marketing in later winter, early spring and early summer of 1959 is not so promising. The Agriculture Department is now predicting a 14 per cent increase in the fall crop over that of last year's, considerably higher than the 6 to 10 per cent increase previously expected.

What this all means, of course, is the agricultural Midwest will be voting in November with a fairly steady and profitable hog market. The drop in the market price, if it comes, will not show up until much later in the year. But while all of this may be a favorable political atmosphere for some interests, it spells nothing but trouble for the farmers.

The nation has still been unable to develop a program to deal with crop abundance. When crop production hits record highs such as the case has been lately, livestock activity naturally goes up. With overproduction, crops cannot be sold at a profit so hope is placed in feeding the crop to livestock that might be sold at a profit. It will be unfortunate for farmers when the livestock market also becomes glutted, whether before or after the fall elections.

Who Runs The Show?

News centering around the testimony of Adm. Arleigh Burke before the Senate Armed Services Committee leaves an air of uncertainty over relationships between the President's cabinet and other executive officers. Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy has expressed his displeasure with Burke's testimony which was in conflict with the views of the administration on reorganization of the defense department.

At one point, McElroy hinted that Burke could even lose his job for speaking out in opposition to the President. The defense secretary, phenomenally successful up to now in keeping out of such scraps, later amended his remarks to remove any hint of reprisals against Burke.

The episode, however, left open to question the position that should be maintained between the cabinet and other executives. In hearings before the House and Senate, it would be a useless waste of time to call in department heads if they were forbidden to give anything but the administration line of thinking in a matter.

We can see no harm coming from a situation wherein the head of one of the military services disagrees with the thinking of the President or secretary of defense. Such a difference of opinion, as McElroy said, may not be the kind of stuff for discussion in unofficial conversation but it is the kind of thing—and the only kind—that will permit the Congress to reach decisions that are best for all concerned. If administration thinking can't stand up under honest debate, then we would hate to see it imposed upon the nation.

She's Champion

Teen age Jolitta Schlehuber of Topeka, Kansas, flitted lightly through the word "propylaeum" and then, when her last remaining rival failed, she wound up with a flourish on syllepsis and thereby hangs the tale.

She won the 1958 national spelling championship and with it a $1,000 prize, a loving cup and a week end in New York City on the house.

It was a big moment for the little Kansas specialist and a good answer to those who complain that the modern generation can't spell. Those who want to, can. Besides, it is a 100 to one shot none of the critics could spell either of the words. That's one advantage in being an adult. One never has to prove his point. It is sufficient to state it.

Miss Schlehuber is entitled to strong praise for she has been unusually diligent in pursuit of perfection. Now it is to be hoped that she goes on from there.

There was time when it was sufficient to be able to spell the word. Then this increasingly complicated life required to know the meanings of each word. Now erudition is not enough. It is the effective application of knowledge that counts. We have learned that information is not wisdom, but only a basis for it.

DREW PEARSON

The Adams Finger In Numerous Pies

WASHINGTON — Sherman Adams occupies the same position in the White House as that of Matt Connelly under President Truman. Connelly's job was to make appointments for the President. If you can decide who can or cannot see the President, tremendous power and favor comes your way.

Every report requiring affirmative action that comes to the President's desk is initiated "O.K.—S.A." If the paper doesn't bear Adams' initials, the President returns it with a query, "What does Sherman say about it?" Adams presides over staff meetings, which used to be presided over by Truman and Roosevelt. He attends meetings of the National Security Council. He pulls wires with Congress, despite the fact that an efficient liaison officer, Gen. Wilton Persons, is appointed to do that job.

And despite his sworn testimony to the contrary, he keeps a very careful eye on the regulatory agencies, supposed to be independent of the White House. The heads of all regulatory agencies come over to see Adams at regular intervals, and he goes over policy and personnel.

When members of the regulatory agencies do not conform, they are fired. When Paul Rowan, commissioner of the Securities and Exchange Commission, voted against the giant Dixon-Yates private power project for the Tennessee Valley, he was dropped, on Adams' orders. When Col. Joseph Adams fought for small airlines, as a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board, he also was dropped. Formal notification came from Adams' assistant, Robert Gray.

Much of Adams' intervention with the independent agencies does not consist of actual phone calls. Members of the agencies know that when he has the power to hire and fire they must conform. Under the law the regulatory agencies are supposed to have a majority of only one Republican under a Republican administration. The other members are supposed to be Democrats. But by a process of appointing such weak "Republican" as Richard Mack, Adams has succeeded in stacking the independent agencies so that they follow the Sherman Adams line.

Technically this is not against the law, but it is certainly against the spirit of the law.

To illustrate the potent arm of Sherman Adams, even in the legislative branch of government, take the long-distance call he placed to Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana in February, 1955. Speaker Sam Rayburn had proposed a $20 tax reduction for everyone in the U.S.A. The administration opposed it. Adams picked up the telephone, called Gov. Kennon, an Eisenhower Democrat, asked him to get on the telephone to other governors to pressure their congressmen to vote against Rayburn and the $20 tax reduction.

The White House has a legislative staff, supposed to work on legislative problems of this kind, but Adams works on every problem. The point is the all-pervading power of the tight-lipped, highly efficient assistant to the President who has had his finger in every agency of government. That is why Ike needs Sherman. And that is why Sherman's calls to anyone in government can move mountains.

Ike, Rayburn Could Retrieve Labor Bill

WASHINGTON — There seems to be no prospect before the Kennedy-Ives labor reform bill in the House but throat-cutting party politics.

Two men conceivably could pull it out: President Eisenhower and Speaker Rayburn. If they would give this issue the kind of co-operation they have given each other on foreign policy measures, they might get the bill the country wants and decent elements in labor—after initial reluctance—accepted.

The price to the President would be more trouble with his party, which is already in revolt against his decision to keep Sherman Adams.

This is because a moderate labor bill on the statute books passed by a Democratic Congress and signed by the Republican President would go far toward eliminating from the fall campaign what looks like the last viable Republican issue. That is the reason Republicans, aided by Labor Secretary James Mitchell, tried to trip up the bill in the Senate.

White House strategists dragged Mitchell into helping answer the Macedonian cries of embattled Republican candidates. Unless the President directly intervenes to stop it, they can be expected to repeat their performance in the House.

What Speaker Rayburn is up against is the cold fact that the House by about 50 votes is anti-labor. On the record, when it gets a chance at a labor bill it makes it more punitive. There was an attempted Taft-Hartley repealer but before the 81st Congress it emerged in the form of the Wood bill, which from labor's point of view was very much worse.

The speaker's normal party margin today, if he gets them all, is about 30. His die-hards on any economic and social issue including labor are more than that. He can take them to the well and coax them to drink only rarely, and usually on an issue of foreign policy.

When his die-hards coalesce with their Republican opposite numbers, both the moderates for whom Rayburn speaks and those to whom Eisenhower appeals on such issues as he chooses to fight for are in trouble.

The solution arrived at during recent years has been inaction by the House Labor Committee, which is bent in labor's direction. They have argued that there is no point in waging a fight they are bound to lose and create enmities hindering other liberal projects.

Rayburn has been accused of not wanting to trip up his southerners on the labor issue. On the record, again, he has shown no disposition to do it and shows none now.

All bills, of course, now face one high hurdle: the adjournment j. m. Congress hopes to go home August 1 and not later than August 15. Copyright, 1958, by U. F. Syndicate, Inc.

LA VERNA HASSLER

Patchwork Prairie Country

I like the simple unpolished things of every day . . . the flowered dishes on my cupboard shelves . . . the round earthenware crock just right for mixing bread . . . the climbing rose we grew. My heart is glad when the pigeon pair strut in my dooryard or paper dolls clutter my table when a little girl comes to call . . . or if a leaning tree high on a windy hill has lived to defy the wintry blasts. How good it is to see purple alfalfa showing ample yield . . . the tractor turning briskly toward home at eventide . . . sleek Black Angus cattle mirrored in a pasture pond. My heart is glad within me for the dim chapels with arcs of candlelight and calm for prayer and praising . . . a winding road . . . an open door . . .

It's cherry-picking time for us as well as for the robin family. It is a continual battle of wits between Mrs. Robin and me to see who gets there first in the mornings. She's always there with the first coral flare of dawn, and I must say she's very fussy about what she eats. She pecks on several cherries before she finds one just right for eating, thereby spoiling them for us. However, I should not begrudge her a small portion of the fruit for if I had five gaping mouths to feed such as she has, I would be desperate, too.

We have had several pies and decided all our efforts of spraying and pruning the trees were well worth while. There is something extra special about a fresh cherry pie with its tart yet sweet goodness baked within a crispy crust. The delightful mouth-watering smells that ooze from the latticed top have a subtle way of suggesting hunger. Then there is cherry pudding, cherry upside-down cake and cherry dumplings. Plump dumplings floating in the red syrupy juice are also among our favorites. There is nothing so fortunate as being hungry when there is cherry pie to eat.

Today I will can the excess fruit, at least a bushel to be stemmed and readied for preserving. While it is a tedious task, I do enjoy the rows of sparkling jars filled with crimson fruit that line my fruit cupboard. The cupboard shelves along about this time of year are rather bare and it's always a satisfaction to restock the food supply.

Blue Jeans drove the tractor for The Farmer yesterday when he hauled the bales to the farmyard for stacking. He came darting into the house with his small hands cupped gently together.

"Guess what I caught!" he challenged in giggling tones. "A baby pheasant." I answered quickly, knowing he had just come from the hay field.

"Nope, guess again," he urged. With several attempts of failure, I agreed to peek into his hands as he opened them slowly. Out jumped a little toad—almost into my apron pocket—and then the fun began. He was so glad for his accidental freedom that he jumped in jubilation all over the kitchen floor with Blue Jeans in hot pursuit. I did my best to capture the little beast. Soon we were both down on the floor on our hands and knees, dodging and reaching until at last he was captured and put into a box. When night shadows began to fall, Blue Jeans turned him loose. Thus ended the first exciting episode of summer.

I told Blue Jeans the story of the two little toads (although I believe it was frogs) who fell into a churn of sour cream. The first little toad paddled awhile but soon gave up when he became tired for he was certain he couldn't get out of the churn. He sank to the bottom. The second little toad did not give up so easily but paddled and paddled for dear life. Soon he had turned the cream to buttermilk. Then it was simple. He sat on a floating chunk of butter and hopped out.

"Do you understand the moral of the story?" I asked amid the chuckling, for he was delighted with the story. "Yep—never fall into a churn full of sour cream," he quickly added.

He spun on his heel like a top and darted through the door like an arrow. Another new adventure was waiting for him in the great outdoors and time was fleeting.

Party Harmony

Blair, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I wish to express unqualified disapproval of a recent editorial appearing in The Star which would seem to impute that re-election of Willard Townsend of Lincoln to the state chairmanship of the Nebraska Democratic party would precipitate a split of Nebraska Democrats "right down the middle" and at a time when unity of the party faithful might be most desirous. What facts could an editor have in his portfolio to support such an erroneous contention?

As a matter of fact, the Lancaster County delegates to the Nebraska state Democratic convention held this week end in Omaha were not united 100 per cent on Mr. Townsend. At the eleventh hour, Townsend, well realizing that he faced inevitable defeat in his active bid for re-election as chairman, was accorded the courtesy (by the convention nomination committee) of withdrawing as a candidate and of nominating Mr. Russell Hanson of Newcastle, Nebraska, to succeed himself. In the doing, Townsend showed extremely bad taste by prefacing the nominating of Hanson with spiteful remarks to the effect that he was being forced to withdraw because of some "sinister" difference of opinions between him and two other leading officers of the party. Was this a true demonstration of honest interest in unity of party?

Actually, Mr. Townsend faced inevitable and crushing defeat in his bid to be re-elected state Democratic chairman because practically 80 per cent of the delegates to the convention, coming from all parts of Nebraska, felt that he hadn't done enough as chairman over the past two years to justify another trial. This feeling was generally widespread at the convention and did not come from any one section or segment of the party. It represented all factions of the Nebraska Democratic party faithful.

And so, quite the reverse of what the editor of The Star would imply is now a fact. Nebraska Democrats for the first time in over 30 years are closer to complete unity behind the finest state of candidates they have ever offered to the citizenry of this state.

Russell Hanson, a respected business man from Newcastle, Nebraska, with known leadership qualities who has worked untriflingly for the Democratic party over many years, is deserving of and will receive the backing of all sincere Democrats, unless from a fractional minority of the Townsend dissidents who are infinitesimal in number and practically all from the capital city.

DEWEY NEMETZ
Editor's Note: Mr. Nemetz is better at reading between the lines than we are at writing there. He found something there we didn't even know existed. The Star is supporting no one for Democratic party state chairman. It does not seem out of line, however, to advocate that in the choice of a chairman not be permitted to split the party. In accordance with the editorial on which Mr. Nemetz takes this issue, we hope Mr. Townsend and his followers sincerely and energetically support the new chairman, Russell Hanson. Our only interest was and still is that those who did not prevail at the Omaha convention make themselves a constructive rather than destructive part of affairs during the next four months.

OMAHA DECISION
Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Omaha voters for some time to come will happily remember June 17, 1958. On that Tuesday, a special election on some $68 million in city bond issues was ordered by the Omaha City Council for securing voter approval thereof. To this request the City Council was given an emphatic "no." In fact, many thousands of "no" ballots were cast by the Omaha voters.

It is reassuring to know that the voters of the Nebraska metropolis are determined to continue their present plans for conservative progress. Very wisely they rejected the plan that called for perpetual financial bondage.

During the election preliminaries, several leaks of unfavorable information occurred which probably contributed to sending the bond issues beneath the waves of voter disapproval. It became known that the downtown areas of Omaha were being belatedly billed for their sanitary sewer use fee charges. It was also publicized that a wheel tax increase to $12 per year on Omaha car owners was in the official hopper. Very apparently motor vehicle owners did not do for this contemplated increase in wheel taxes.

LEO N. BARTUNEK

Thank You
Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: With the success of the 1958 Nebraska Heart Fund drive assured, I feel a sense of great appreciation for The Star's contribution. The campaign which has now raised over $200,000 is a direct result of the time and effort invested in the campaign by civic-minded individuals. Our thanks for the news coverage given our activities.

The money The Star has helped to raise will be wisely invested. More than half will be put into research with the remainder being invested in physician and nurse education, increased public understanding and services.

We look forward to continued interest and support in the fight against heart disease, which causes 54 per cent of all Nebraska's deaths.

Senate Passes Bill To Permit U.S. To Share Atomic Secrets

Two Changes Are Approved

Washington (AP) — The Senate passed in amended form a bill which would permit the United States to share some of its atomic weapon secrets with friendly nations.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM), ranking senator on the Senate-Atomic Energy Committee, persuaded the Senate to make 2 changes before it approved the bill on a voice vote.

One of his amendments would limit to Great Britain the presidential authority to transfer non-nuclear parts of atomic weapons. As it came to the floor, the bill would have permitted such transfers to any friendly nation.

The other amendment knocked out a section permitting the President to furnish friendly countries data on "other military applications of atomic energy." Anderson said the purpose of the section had never been made clear.

Back To House

The legislation now goes back to the House for consideration of the Senate changes. The House passed its version of the bill 345-12 last week.

Some senators expressed doubts about sharing atomic secrets even with allied nations, but Sen. John O. Pastore (D-RI) said there was no intention of creating a fourth atomic power in the world. The existing atomic powers are the United States, Britain and Russia. Pastore added:

"It is indeed foolish for the United States to keep from our allies information which would be helpful to them and to ourselves in our mutual defense, when such information already is known to our common enemies."

'Urgent Basis'

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress to approve "on an urgent basis" an international agreement calling for the building of 6 atomic power reactors in Europe by 1963.

These plants would provide about a million kilowatts of electricity.

The cost of the program would run close to a billion dollars with this country financing part of it through long-term loans and paying for some of it outright.

Special Message

In a special message Eisenhower told Congress the building of nuclear reactors in the 6 nations making up the 6-nation European Atomic Energy Community (Euratom) "is of vital importance to the United States, for the 160 million people on the continent of Europe are crucial to North Atlantic strength."

At the same time Eisenhower suggested other countries—presumably including the Communist bloc—might benefit eventually from the program contemplated for the Euratom countries: France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, West Germany and Luxembourg.

New Jersey Benefits For Jobless Extended

Trenton, N.J. (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner Monday signed a bill extending unemployment compensation benefits in New Jersey from the present top of 26 weeks to up to 39 weeks.

The measure authorizes the state to borrow funds for the program from the federal government. Total cost of the extension, which expires Apr. 1, 1959, is estimated at $25 million.

The bill, designed as an anti-recession measure, covers workers who have exhausted their unemployment compensation benefits since last October or who exhaust them while the bill is in effect.

No Man Indispensable--Alcorn

Goldwater Wants Adams To Resign

Washington (AP)—Meade Alcorn, Republican national chairman, praised presidential assistant Sherman Adams as a man of unsurpassed ability and unquestionable integrity, but said no man is indispensable.

Adams has been under fire in Congress for accepting costly favors from Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

Goldwater

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) renewed his demand that Adams resign. Adams has indicated he has no intention of quitting—a decision received glumly by some Republicans.

Eisenhower said last week he needs Adams.

Alcorn was asked if Adams were forced out of office, "do you think that might destroy President Eisenhower's desire to continue in office without this man upon whom he's so dependent?" Alcorn replied: "Well, of course, no man is indispensable."

His Interpretation

"I think that what the president was trying to say—at least I understood him to be saying simply this—that Sherman Adams has demonstrated through 5½ years of dedicated service a most remarkable, indeed a unique ability to get things done."

Alcorn challenged 3 Democratic senators to go before the Harris committee to determine "how many of them have actually exerted influence" to bring about the granting of television channel licenses.

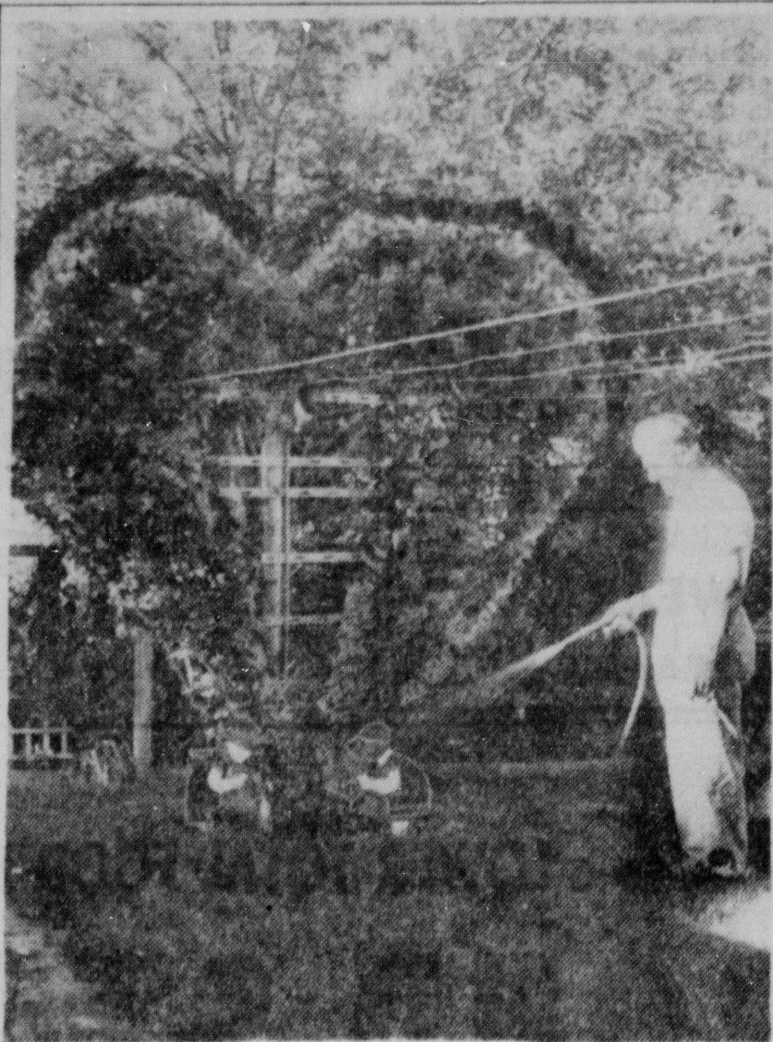

He said, "I would be very interested to see whether Senator Symington (D-Mo) is going to come from behind the cloak of so far what appears to be congressional immunity and go before the Harris committee. He hasn't had the courage and the candor that Sherman Adams has had. I'd like to see whether Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) will. I'd like to see whether Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) will."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) proposed creation of a commission charged with drafting a federal code of ethics to cover such cases as those in which Adams is involved.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb.), who has taken the position that Adams should go, reacted in obvious disappointment to Adams' indication he has no intention of quitting.

Asked if he still believes Adams ought to resign, Curtis replied: "I haven't changed my mind on that score."

Goldwater, who returned Monday from a meeting of Republican county chairmen in Arizona, said it was the unanimous opinion of that group Adams ought to resign.

This huge "heart of roses" is the pride of flower lover, George Jacobs of 2910 Sumner, shown watering his lawn. Jacobs got the "heart" idea this spring and shaped these red "Blaze" climbing roses and tied them to a trellis. Dulles Sees Little Prospect Of Ease In World Tension

Washington (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said Monday night he sees little prospect of easing East-West tensions at the present time.

Dulles said it is possible, but hardly likely, that "forces at work within the Soviet bloc" might shift Communist policy.

In that unlikely event, he said, "then there will be a very great possibility of better relations."

Dulles made his comments in an interview over Canadian Broadcasting Corp. (CBC). It was recorded by interviewer Edgar McNelis, president of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs for later radio-TV broadcast in Canada.

Dulles told McNelis that the basic problem facing western diplomacy has remained the same during his 5 years in office.

This problem, he declared, is the Communist "creed to dominate the world."

Ike Told Little Rock Delay 'Outrage' To Negro Race

Washington (AP)—Four Negro leaders took word to President Eisenhower Monday that a court order delaying school integration in Little Rock, Ark., outraged their race. They said they got a sympathetic reception, but no promises.

The Negro spokesmen told Eisenhower that Saturday's ruling by U.S. District Judge Harry Lemley, postponing integration 2½ years, "is being construed, rightly or wrongly, as a green light to lawless elements in their defiance of federal authority."

Specifically, they urged Eisenhower to direct the Justice Department to file a brief against the decision when it is appealed.

The Negro leaders also laid before Eisenhower other requests for action in the fields of integration and civil rights. Neither on the Little Rock ruling, nor on any of the other points, they said, did Eisenhower make any pledges or commitments.

But they said that out of their 45-minute conference with the Chief Executive grew a little bit better understanding of Eisenhower's position and a bit better understanding of their position on his part. "I should say," A. Philip Randolph of New York told reporters, "that the conference has put a new hope into the hearts of Negroes throughout the country."

Randolph, president of the International Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and a vice president of the AFL-CIO, called this the most important accomplishment of the White House meeting.

"Gracious, friendly" Randolph said Eisenhower was "gracious, friendly, kindly, co-operative and sympathetic," even though he made no comment whatever on Judge Lemley's order deferring integration and took no positive stand on the various requests put to him.

Lester B. Granger, executive secretary of the National Urban League, said the program presented to the Chief Executive was not something on which he should reach his decisions in a brief conference.

The other Negro leaders present were Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, and the Rev. Martin Luther King, who led a Negro boycott of Montgomery, Ala., busses.

Also sitting in were Atty. Gen. Rogers and 2 Presidential aides who handle minority and special problems.

Conrad Flies Non-Stop To His Sicily Goal . . . 4,440-Mile Flight

Palermo, Sicily (AP)—Max Conrad, a flying grandfather, wound up a storm-plagued, 4,440-mile non-stop flight from New York in his single-engine plane tonight, tired but triumphant. A long radio silence had aroused fears that he had crashed.

"It was a wonderful, but very tiring adventure," said the 55-year-old father of 10 children as he clambered out of his little Piper Comanche at Palermo's Bocca di Falco Airport.

Conrad completed the marathon hop—his 40th and longest light-plane flight—in 32 hours, 48 minutes. He brought his little plane down through a heavy overcast at 7:55 p.m. (1:55 p.m. EST). The elapsed time beat his own prediction of 33 hours by 12 minutes.

Conrad's flight set no new record for distance flights by small planes. William P. Odum of the United States flew 4,957 miles from Honolulu to Teterboro, N. J. on March 7-8, 1949. It took Odum 26 hours to cover the distance.

Writ Granted; Inmate Gets His Freedom

Brown Shupe Jr. of New-man Grove won his freedom from the State Penitentiary Monday as Lancaster District Judge Harry A. Spencer granted his request for a writ of habeas corpus.

Judge Spencer ruled that a 1955 statute provides that an inmate violating prison rules forfeits only the amount of "good time" he has accumulated to the date of the infraction. Shupe had cited this law in claiming that he should have been released March 24.

Shupe, 31, was sentenced to a 5-year burglary term from Omaha in 1953 and received an additional 1-year term for second degree arson in 1955 for his part in the Aug. 16, 1955, prison riot and fire.

Judge Spencer's ruling in another recent dispute involving interpretation of "good time" statutes, whereby an inmate receives time off his sentence for various reasons, is currently pending on appeal before the State Supreme Court.

Beirut Calm Is Shattered

Beirut, Lebanon (AP)—A bomb killed 5 persons in downtown Beirut Monday, shattering a relative calm that had prevailed in the revolt-shaken capital since U.N. peace-making efforts began.

The bomb apparently was intended to frighten shoppers and shopkeepers who defied a general strike ordered more than a month ago by rebels trying to overthrow President Camille Chamoun.

A woman and her child were among the victims when the bomb went off opposite a fruit bazaar. Many other shoppers were shielded by an empty bus parked at the curb.

It was the worst terrorist bombing since a crowded bus was blasted several weeks ago.

Lightning Strikes Playground, Boys Are Bowled Over

Grantsville, Utah (AP)—Lightning struck a playground Monday evening, jolting a group of boys watching a Little League baseball game.

State Trooper Howard Cooper said the bolt "bowled them over like bowling pins," knocking 3 unconscious. Nine boys were taken to the hospital in nearby Tooele, but only 2 were found to have suffered minor burns. None required hospitalization.

Cooper said the lightning bolt struck a football goal post and shattered it. He said the sky was nearly clear, and no clouds seemed close enough to have sparked the bolt.

Treated for minor burns were Larry Johnson, 19, and his brother Charles, 22. Others checked at the hospital and released ranged in age from 8 to 14.

Hammarskjöld met twice with Fawzi. They reportedly discussed the U.N. emergency force on the Israeli-Egyptian borders and other U.N. matters.

Funnel Over K.C.

Hit-Run Victim Found Near Fremont Identify Man As Transient

By the Associated Press
Discovery of the victim of what appeared to be a hit-run accident near Fremont Monday morning raised Nebraska's 1958 traffic toll to 128. At this time last year the toll stood at 115.

It was the third traffic fatality of the week-end. Two other victims died in one-car accidents.

Dodge County Sheriff Pelham McGee identified the latest victim as Robert R. Berghoefer, 51, of Shidler, Okla., who was apparently killed sometime before dawn when struck by a truck as he walked toward Fremont about 2 miles east of the city on U.S. 275.

Sheriff McGee and the State Safety Patrol are looking for a truck believed to have been manufactured between 1935 and 1945. The truck is missing a right headlight rim and lens. Some glass from a turn signal light also was found at the scene.

McGee said Berghoefer, apparently was a transient. He was carrying his clothing in a bundle. The accident was discovered by a truck driver who passed the scene about dawn.

McGee said Berghoefer's father, E. A. Berghoefer, lives at Shidler.

The other victims:
Virgil E. Schulz, 18, Kearney, killed in accident on a road 1 1/2 miles north of Pleasanton.

Marvin E. Spencer, 27, Omaha, fatally injured in a county road accident 2 miles east of Bennington.

Buffalo County Sheriff Lloyd Frank said Schulz apparently missed a sharp curve on State 10. His car hurtled across a ditch and hit the bank where it could not be seen from the road.

Cozad Youth Enters Plea Of Guilty To Charges; Bond Set At $1,000

Cozad, Neb. — Larry Wilson, 17, of Cozad, waived preliminary hearing before County Judge Albert Mann Monday and pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering and armed robbery in connection with a wild foray Friday night.

The youth surrendered voluntarily after kidnapping a policeman and his companion and threatening his mother with a gun. Policeman John Wenburg said during the time he held the officer captive Wilson actually pulled the trigger on a gun pointed at his mother, but the gun did not discharge.

The incident started when Wenburg and Jim Frazier a Cozad jewelry store operator, discovered Wilson in an ally trying to start a motorcycle. The policeman said Wilson pulled a gun, forced the 2 men to drive him to the home of his mother, Mrs. Chirs McNulty, where his mother attempted to get the gun away from him.

After stopping there, Wenburg said, Wilson ordered the men back into the car and drove them out of town. He finally forced them from the car and drove off.

They alerted officers in the area and subsequently Wilson surrendered.

The breaking and entering charge stems from a break in at a sporting goods store where a revolver, a motorcycle and some ammunition was taken.

The complaint was filed by Dawson County Attorney Paul Gerdes.

Wilson was placed under $1,000 bond. He is scheduled for District Court arraignment before Judge I. J. Nisley later this week.

A few weeks ago, Martha Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hamilton planned a party for Janey Tinstman who, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Tinstman, soon will be residing in Omaha. But the party had to be postponed, due to some cases of measles — until Saturday.

Saturday afternoon the young Miss Hamilton had her party for the small Janey—a movie, followed by dessert at Hotel Cornhusker. In the group of six-year-olds are, left to right, are Frannie Drath, Debbie Atkinson, Janey Tinstman, Martha Hamilton and Penny Greer.

The heart-shaped decolletage of the fitted bodice was filled in with a yoke of lace, patterned with seed pearls and sequins, which extended in to the long sleeves. Appliques of the jeweled lace also dotted the extremely bouffant skirt which was completed with a chapel train.

Miss Phyllis Czeskleba was the bride's only attendant, and Don Andrews served as best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Saddle and Siroin Club, Hotel Westward Ho. Mr. Gearke, an airlines pilot, and his bride are residing in Phoenix. Mrs. Gearke attended Brigham Young University. getting weaker or is she trying to get more attention than is her due?

WORN-OUT DEAR WORN: Childbirth today is far easier (and certainly much safer) than it was when your mother "laid down" and had a farm woman attend her. Modern woman (like modern man) is as strong as she has to be.

DEAR ABBY: You advised a gentleman whose wife kept losing his important papers to keep them locked up in a box under his bed. Are you trying to put us bankers out of business? What's the matter with a safe deposit box?

A BANKER If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Dear Abby . . .

He'll Learn!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 years old and am going with a boy who is 22 but he knows absolutely nothing about romance, especially how to kiss. He kisses me like he is kissing his grandmother (if you know what I mean). He just finished his Army hitch and says I am the kind of girl he would like to marry, but I don't know if he would make a good husband if he doesn't even know how to kiss a girl. Should I teach him or do you think he would wonder where I learned?

EDUCATED DEAR EDUCATED: Don't give him the post-graduate course unless you are prepared to tell him who gave you your diploma.

DEAR ABBY: I have a little girl, age seven, who is both beautiful and above average in intelligence. I am mentally sick and cannot give her the love and attention she needs. My mind is filled with thoughts of suicide. My wife runs around with other men and doesn't wake up until the child goes to her room in the morning and says, "Mommie mommie, what dress should I wear?" My wife beats her and screams at her, "Leave me alone! I wish you were never born!" We are both unfit to raise this child. What must I do to save her?

SICK MAN DEAR SIR: Get in touch with your CHILDREN'S PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION at once. In the meantime, since you are obviously sincere in your plea for help, I have taken the liberty of alerting the local authorities in your community. God bless you and good luck!

DEAR ABBY: My sister is always asking me if I think she's getting big in the hips. She is getting pretty broad because she has a job that requires her to sit all day.

She always says, "Tell me the truth now, do you think I am getting hippy?" I'm afraid if I do, it will hurt her feelings. What should I say when she asks me next time? LITTLE SISTER

DEAR SIS: Tell her the truth—but suggest that she get to the seat of the matter and combine diet with exercise.

DEAR ABBY: My wife had her third child yesterday and I am a nervous wreck. Why should a woman make such a howling fuss over a natural thing like giving birth? Dogs and cats go off and have their young without disturbing anyone. I remember my mother just laying down and another farm woman came in to take care of her while she had hers. Is the modern woman

Senate Opens Debate On House-Passed Alaska Statehood Bill

Washington (UPI) — The Senate opened debate on a House-approved bill to make Alaska the 49th state and Democratic whip Mike Mansfield announced that night sessions would be held if necessary to get a vote this week.

Mansfield said a showdown on the measure, first introduced in 1916, was "way overdue." He joined other statehood supporters in urging the Senate to act quickly and give final congressional approval to the bill.

Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont) chairman of the Senate Interior Committee, kicked off the debate by saying Alaska had met "every traditional and historical test of readiness and qualification for statehood."

The Senate agreed earlier

by voice vote to take up the statehood bill approved by the House last month instead of a similar one written by Murray's committee.

'Acceptable'

Murray said this was "completely acceptable" to him and joined Mansfield in urging Senate approval of the bill "without change."

Statehood advocates feared that if the bill was amended in the Senate, opponents might be able to tie it up in the hostile House Rules Committee when it goes back to the House for consideration of changes. But if the Senate approves the bill it will go straight to the White House.

Murray drew support in the first round of debate from Sens. Dennis Chavez (D-NM), Henry Jackson (D-Wash) and Frank Church (D-Idaho).

Calling for immediate action, Chavez said he "sees no reason" to further delay admission of the huge territory. Church said approval of the bill would be the "most significant accomplishment" of this session of Congress.

COMMERCIAL TIES ARE CALLED KEY TO U.S.-JAPANESE RELATIONS

The future of the United States-Japanese relations depends on how the commercial ties are developed, Toshiro Shimanouchi of the Japanese Embassy in Washington said Monday at the University of Nebraska.

Speaking at a World Affairs Preview on Japan, Shimanouchi emphasized the importance of replacing "the fluidity of past relations" between the two countries with good, close relations that exist at the moment.

Noting that Japan is a "good customer" of U.S. goods—being 2nd only to Canada—he maintained that the U.S. is capable of expanding its market for Japanese quality and novelty goods.

Japan buys $12 million yearly of Nebraska goods, he said. In reviewing the importance of trade to his nation's economic survival, Shimanouchi said that one serious problem in Japan today is to improve the unfavorable balance of trade by developing markets wherever possible. It is a "stern reality," however, he added, that "our trade with the U.S. is a life and death matter."

He noted that while Japan has made great strides in industrial development and has increased the national income by 50% since the war, its share in world trade is still about 1/2 of the pre-war level.

In expanding its exports, Shimanouchi observed that Japan must "shoulder certain responsibilities" in regards to the quality of goods and by developing those industries which won't hurt American manufacturers.

Research Institute To Elect Five

The Governmental Research Institute will elect 5 directors at its annual meeting Thursday noon to be held at the YMCA.

Also on the agenda are the annual reports and planning for the ensuing years, according to President Ralph W. Tyler.

The Institute's latest bulletin on "Lincoln and Lancaster County, a standard metropolitan area," discusses anticipated industrial development and the various phases of city and county co-operation in governmental operation.

The bulletin, prepared by J. G. W. Lewis, director of research, contains a resume of accomplishments and prospects for city-county co-operation and consolidation.

Solon Ground Water Group Plans Meeting

The next meeting of the Legislative Council study committee on ground water probably will be held sometime in July, Sen. Don Thompson of McCook, committee chairman, said Monday.

The McCook senator met with Dr. Jack Ridgers, research director for the Legislative Council, to prepare material which will be considered by the committee at the July meeting which will be held in Lincoln.

Wage-Hour Law Enters 20th Year

Wednesday marks the 20th anniversary of the signing of the Fair Labor Standards Act, which now assures 24 million U.S. workers $1 minimum hourly wages and overtime pay for over 40 hours a week working time.

The act, familiarly known as the federal wage-hour law, went into effect in 1938, then specifying a 25c hourly minimum wage and overtime provisions for more than 44 hours of work a week.

The administration of the act is carried on by the U.S. Labor Department, which is authorized to investigate and prosecute employers who violate the act's provisions.

During fiscal 1957, Nebraska employers agreed to pay $71,896 in back pay to 700 employees in compliance with Labor Department efforts.

Here Comes a New Way of Life

That lonely truck moving through the night is a symbol of the way we live today. What you see, of course, is a modern motor vehicle. What you don't see are the fresh and packaged foods it's carrying to some shopping center, there to be unloaded before opening time tomorrow... It's just one of many trucks you'll probably meet before you get where you're going—and one of millions continually at work across the country on the everlasting job of moving increasing mountains of merchandise of every description to where they're needed... Actually it's a new way of life, this truck you're passing in the night, for with their flexibility and speed, their ability to go wherever there are roads, trucks have changed our whole pattern of living. Today, because of trucks, we can live and shop wherever we please—and mills and plants can locate just about anywhere, too... America is growing at a rate and in directions undreamed of a generation or so ago and made possible to a large extent by the Trucking Industry, expanding to serve you.

Cerv Homers For A's, Tigers Win

leties defeated the Washington Senators 7-2 Monday night.

Cerv's clout over the left-center fence in the third inning was his 19th and lifted him back into a tie with Boston's Jackie Jensen for the American League lead. Tuttle's, in the seventh inning, was his third. Lopez hit his fourth in the eighth inning.

But the A's weren't the only ones who found the range. Norm Zauchin got his fifth for Washington in the seventh, and Roy Sievers clouted his 13th for the Senators in the eighth.

The result evened the A's and the Senators at 4 victories each.

Dickson struck out three and walked two in chalking up his fifth victory against three losses. Russ Kemmerer, who went six innings for the Senators was the loser. He's now 4-5.

The victory was the fourth straight for the A's and kept them in second place in the American League, a full game ahead of Detroit.

Tigers Edge Orioles, 3-1
 Detroit (P) — Righthander George Susce won his 1st game of the season Monday as the Detroit Tigers beat the Baltimore Orioles 3-1 with the help of Gail Harris' home run.

Susce, who started the season with the Boston Red Sox, surrendered 7 hits. One was Gus Triandos' 15th homer into the upper left field stands in the 6th. It was Susce's 1st complete game since Sept. 25, 1955, when he defeated the New York Yankees 8-1.

Catcher Red Wilson paced the Tigers' 10-hit attack with 4 singles. But none figured in the scoring.

The Tigers scored single runs in the 2nd, 3rd and 8th innings as they beat Baltimore for only the 2nd time in 6 games. Harris touched Orlone loser Arnold Porocarrero for a bases-empty homer in the 2nd, his 4th of the season.

Fist-Fight With Ump Spices Tilt
 Topeka (P) — Larry Koppe's grand slam home run for Topeka in the sixth inning was virtually forgotten an inning later here Monday night when Des Moines outfielder Bill Dasher and plate umpire Jerry Van Keuren exchanged blows.

Amid the melee, the Hawks whipped the Dodgers, 9-5, as Koppe's four bagger sparked a seven-run Topeka uprising in the sixth. Big Rich Jack was the winner, although he needed help from Jack Lutz in the seventh.

The incident between Dasher and Van Keuren occurred in the top of the seventh after the Dodgers had scored 3 runs off Jack and Lutz. Lutz then retired two batters on strike outs and had a 2-1 count on Dasher.

Van Keuren called a second strike and Dasher wheeled about to protest. After an exchange of words, Dasher was ordered out of the game.

The player then began bumping the official with his body, forcing Van Keuren toward the stands.

Centally Retarded School To Be Open For Residents In September

By Betty Person

Cozad was approved Monday by the Board of Control as the site for a residential school for mentally retarded youngsters and Board Engineer Carl Botsford was authorized to begin immediately making preparations for a $9,500 remodeling project on the Cozad facilities.

The 1957 Legislature appropriated $80,000 for such a pilot school and several Nebraska communities were in vigorous competition to be named as the site.

The Board authorized the school for 30 trainable retarded children and placed a maximum of 20 on the number of resident students that will be accommodated on a 5-day week basis, with the remainder as day students.

A policy has been adopted by the Board that non-resident students must live within a 25-mile radius of the school.

Church Building

Cozad is providing a brick church building and frame parsonage as the school site for a monthly rental of $225 and has offered to pay $750 toward the remodeling costs.

Stay Is Denied

Integration Delay Ruling Still Stands

Little Rock, Ark. (AP) — A federal judge Monday refused to stay his own order delaying school integration here for 2½ years. He indirectly advised the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People to try for the stay in a higher court.

Wiley Branton, a Negro attorney for the NAACP, said he would take the cue.

"Have motion, will travel," Branton quipped.

U.S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley denied Branton's motion after hearing 6 minutes of oral argument and recessing court for an hour to write the opinion.

"From a practical standpoint, to grant this motion and stay the enforcement of our judgment would to a large extent nullify our order," Lemley said.

3 Months Needed

He said it would probably take 3 months to carry the case to the Supreme Court "and in the meantime the situation at Central High School which we have found to be intolerable... would continue."

The 74-year-old jurist said he had handled the School Board's petition for an integration delay as quickly as possible in order to reach a decision before Sept. 1.

"In the meantime the plaintiffs can apply at least to the Court of Appeals of this circuit for a stay of the enforcement of our judgment," he said.

The School Board had asked that integration be delayed at Central on grounds that racial tension, violence and the presence of troops was interrupting education there. Lemley's ruling had granted the board the delay.

MINNIJEAN'S FATHER HELD IN A KILLING

Little Rock, Ark. (AP) — Chief Deputy Prosecutor John T. Jernigan said Monday he has ordered a murder charge placed on the Municipal Court docket against the father of Minnie Jean Brown.

Willie (Bob) Brown, 57, is accused of the fatal shooting of Elmer Isaac, a 68-year-old Negro, Sunday morning in front of a Negro club.

Jernigan said no degree of the charge was specified because the investigation was incomplete. Bond was set at $2,000.

Brown's daughter, Minnie Jean, was one of the 9 Negro students who attended Central High School during the past school year under protection of federal troops. She was later expelled and attended a private interracial school in New York City.

Economists See 17-Year High In Jobless Figure

Washington (UPI) — Government economists predicted that unemployment in June will climb to a 17-year high of between 5,400,000 and 5,500,000.

This would be more than a half-million increase in the 4,904,000 unemployed in May. The June increase, however, was less than the 6 million figure Secretary of Labor James Mitchell warned Congress to expect for the month.

The exact figures will be released during the first week of July by the Labor and Commerce Departments.

The predicted increase was attributed to the heavy influx of students and graduates into the labor market. It would be the highest number of unemployed since August, 1941.

SUPREME COURT RULES:

Home Of Every Man-- Good, Bad--His Castle

Washington (AP) — The Supreme Court, citing the adage that every man's home is his castle, Monday freed a man described by a dissenting justice as a wholesale narcotics violator.

"Every householder, the good and the bad, the guilty and the innocent, is entitled to the protection designed to secure the common interest against invasion of the house," Justice Brennan wrote for the majority.

Brennan said officers who had no warrant broke into the apartment here of William Miller without telling him they had come to arrest him.

Brennan said Miller could not be lawfully arrested in his home by officers breaking in without first giving him notice of their authority and purpose.

Due Notice Not Given

Since Miller did not receive such notice before the officers broke the door to invade his home, Brennan said, the arrest was unlawful and the evidence seized ($100 in marked bills) must be suppressed.

Justice Clark, joined by Justice Burton, took vigorous exception in the 7-2 decision.

Clark said the U.S. Court of Appeals here found that Miller fully understood who the officers were and that they sought to arrest him. Clark agreed with the Appellate Court that Miller's arrest was valid under District of Columbia law.

Clark said Miller had a previous record in dope traffic. And, Clark added, Miller "carries on his abominable trade by using a juvenile as a dope peddler and co-conspirator."

Other Actions

In another major decision the court upheld the right of the federal government to impose an acreage limit on farms receiving irrigation waters from Bureau of Reclamation projects.

This overturned a decision by the California Supreme Court that contracts between various California irrigation districts and the Reclamation Bureau were invalid so long as they contained a 160-acre limitation on farms of water users.

Justice Clark, joined by Justice Burton, took vigorous exception in the 7-2 decision.

Justice Clark, joined by Justice Burton, took vigorous exception in the 7-2 decision.

Clark said the U.S. Court of Appeals here found that Miller fully understood who the officers were and that they sought to arrest him. Clark agreed with the Appellate Court that Miller's arrest was valid under District of Columbia law.

Clark said Miller had a previous record in dope traffic. And, Clark added, Miller "carries on his abominable trade by using a juvenile as a dope peddler and co-conspirator."

Other Actions

In another major decision the court upheld the right of the federal government to impose an acreage limit on farms receiving irrigation waters from Bureau of Reclamation projects.

This overturned a decision by the California Supreme Court that contracts between various California irrigation districts and the Reclamation Bureau were invalid so long as they contained a 160-acre limitation on farms of water users.

Gage Harvest Depenas On Weather

Beatrice, Neb. (AP) — The weather holds the key to the start of wheat harvesting in Gage County, observers commented.

If there are hot dry days, there may be some harvesting by the end of this week.

Although predictions were hard to come by the census was that prospects are for a better yield than last year.

John Reichers, manager at the Clatonia elevator estimated the yield would run about 10 bushels per acre above last year with some fields running 40 to 50 bushels per acre.

Stan Delaplaine's POSTCARD

All the young ladies of our acquaintance are interested in horses these days. What I mean, they are simply MAD about horses!

This is a rather expensive madness and I am sorry I cannot share the emotion. I am an unfeeling sort of clod. But I do pick up the tab. That is one consolation to the horsey set at my place.

At 14, my daughter suddenly developed this great passion for horses. And where she gets it from, do not ask me. I placed a small bet on a bangtail called "Baby Doll" once that came in winners.

But I had no overpowering urge to be a jockey.

My child, however, is up at the crack and into riding pants. She then goes off to a place where they rent you horses. She jogs around a 11 day. That is her idea of pleasure.

The same feeling seems to strike all the other young ladies in our set. These things come like measles. One gets it, everybody gets it.

I look back fondly on the days when these children used to collect lizards and put them in old fruit jars. At the time, it drove me daffy. For the place you put fruit jars (after you put a lizard in it) is in your father's bathroom.

It takes a strong man to shave in the morning with a lizard staring at you through glass.

There was one good thing about it. We did not have to rent lizards. Nor did we have to buy a complete lizard-catching wardrobe. Those were palmy days! I did not know when I was well off.

I cannot remember anything like this striking me in my swagging teens.

When I was fond of horses, it cost my family almost nothing.

We were fond of horses when I was a small fry indeed. Western movies put us in touch with horses. Because William S. Hart loved his horses so. He kissed them and said good-by to them — they both had tears in their eyes.

We were pretty snifflly ourselves. Down in the front popcorn rows.

When the picture was over, we went out and tried to find a horse to befriend.

The horse we befriended most was the iceman's horse. The iceman had a slow route and so we had a lot of time to befriend the beast.

The iceman's horse wore a straw hat with two holes cut in it for his ears to stick through. He was a comical sight, I imagine. But youth was wonderful talent for seeing beneath the trappings.

We saw a gailant steed. Just like the kind that carried the message to the cavalry post. (He carried the message in his teeth.)

Once we tried to get the iceman's horse to hold a message in his teeth. But he lipped it a couple of times and spit it out.

Well, we would grab the iceman's horse around the neck and declare: "So long, Old Paint. I reckon I must cash in my chips."

You had to be careful when you did this. For sometimes the horse would toss his head. The hat he wore was an old sailor straw with a stiff edge. If it caught you across the face, it hurt.

We also had an idea this horse needed food. And we pulled grass for him. The lawns around our parts had a rather mangy look at the end of the summer.

We brought apples from the icebox. The horse ate nearly anything you handed him. He did not care for peanut butter sandwiches, I remember. But almost anything else. The iceman would holler at us: "Hey, you kids! Quit feeding that horse!"

But we were intrepid and kept him well stuffed with dandelions and such. That was all I ever had to do with horses. And what my daughter sees in them is beyond me. Curiously — and thank goodness — we do not have to feed the horses she rides. All we have to do is feed the rider. And the appetite she brings home from these sessions! How I miss the lizards.

Vic Heads State Group Attending Oil Meet

Gov. Victor E. Anderson Monday heads a 4-man delegation attending the 1958 mid-year meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Other Nebraskans attending the session which continues through Wednesday included James D. Conway of Hastings, official Nebraska representative on the Commission; S. E. Torgeson of Kimball, member of the Public Lands Committee, and J. L. Parmelee of Omaha, a member of the regulatory practice committee.

Gov. Anderson's office said governors of Wyoming, Utah, Montana, Oklahoma, Colorado and West Virginia also were expected.

Gov. Anderson was scheduled Tuesday to introduce the main speaker, Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton. Seaton however had to cancel his appearance and will be replaced by Under Secretary of the Interior O. Hatfield Chilson.

In prepared comment on the Salt Lake City meeting, Gov. Anderson said oil production "is the fastest growing industry in Nebraska and Nebraska should do everything possible to conserve its irreplaceable natural resources."
